WELCOME,

First State Bank is pleased to partner with and support many great organizations that serve our communities. Part of our philosophy, as a community bank, is to give back locally by: supporting the efforts of those providing resources to those in need, enhancing and providing access to arts and culture, improving the environment and more.

As we strive to create a community-minded organization, First State Bank has incorporated this philosophy as guideposts to everything we do. We'd like to share with you, the why behind this community guide – our shared organizational Mission, Vision and Values.

Our Mission

Maximize shareholder value by building financial relationships that foster prosperity in the communities we serve.

Our Vision

To enhance the financial well-being of our customers while enriching the neighborhoods we serve.

Our Values

Localism

There are many charities and organizations serving our communities, and unfortunately we cannot directly support each one. However, we hope this guide will provide inspiration and information to those who want to donate, volunteer or share resources with others. First State Bank is committed to serving the community and finding opportunities to help our neighbors thrive.

We remind those interested in advancing missions like ours to consider a local banking relationship with First State Bank. We strive to create a thriving community through home loans, financing of small businesses and employment of nearly 200 individuals who are dedicated to providing service that reflects the needs and desires of people and businesses in our region.

To learn more about us, visit our website at www.fsb.bank.

We commend the dedication of those who tirelessly work on behalf of others and it is our hope that this guide brings light to their work.

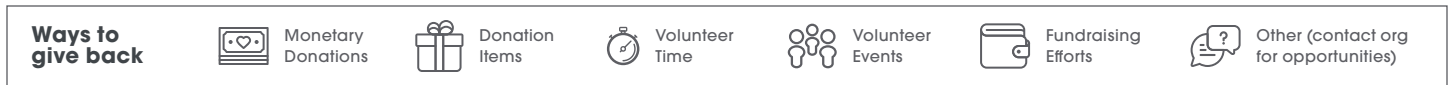

All the best,

Mark Jansen
President and CEO, First State Bank

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

As a community bank, part of our philosophy is to give back locally by supporting the efforts of those providing resources to those in need, enhancing and providing access to arts and culture, improving the environment, and more. As we strive to create a community-minded organization, First State Bank has incorporated this philosophy to guide everything we do. At First State Bank, we believe in investing in our communities through loans to businesses and consumers, through sponsorships and donations that emphasize human needs and education, and through volunteering.
